

When Maine CDC may call about COVID-19

Person with
COVID-19

1. Case Investigator calls person with COVID-19

- Learn who the person has been in close contact with
- Refer the person to community resources if needed
- Plan for follow up calls

2. Contact Tracer calls people identified as close contacts

- Enroll them in contact tracing for daily symptom checks
- Help them take steps to keep others safe in case they get COVID-19

An honest conversation with the person on the phone helps keep your family and friends safe.

People's identity is protected, names will not be shared.

Call 211 with any question you have about COVID-19.

<https://www.maine.gov/dhhs/coronavirus>

